Being a Multicultural, Intercultural and Cross-cultural Church

In 1985, during its fourth national Assembly meeting, the Uniting Church proudly declared: 'The Uniting Church is a Multicultural Church'. As the 40th anniversary of this declaration approaches, the Uniting Church Assembly is inviting Uniting Church communities to mark 15 June 2025 as the date to commemorate, celebrate and reflect on this commitment. There will also be a vibrant national event in the lead up to 15 June. This means we recognize and celebrate the diversity of cultures and languages within our congregations and seek to live out our faith across cultural boundaries. We are the Uniting Church in Australia and Australia is a multicultural nation, it makes sense that we reflect this important aspect of community life.

The Uniting Church has an ethos of unity in diversity. We are all unique and diverse, yet we are one in Christ who is our source of unity. This unity is something that Paul repeatedly called us to as a Church in his epistles. It stems from our understanding as God as Trinity, where God is three distinct persons who have different works and ways of being, but are one God.

Peter and the early Church had to come to a realisation that we are brought into one being in Christ. For Peter, as told in Acts 11:1-18, he had a vision of a cloth descending from heaven and having to break his religious rules at the command of God. The moral of this experience is that Peter understood that "The Spirit told me... not to make a distinction between them and us." [Acts 11:12].

As reflected on the ways that the leaders of the early Church learnt about the inclusive nature of God's love and grace I wrote the following prayer.

Not Them, But Us

God,
Give that log in our eye a big flick.
Make us aware of our stupid hypocrisy.
Humble us in our ignorant arrogance when
we seek to judge others,
And make the huge sin of seeing others as
"them" not "us".
Like Peter eating humble pie;
Like Paul being healed of his blindness,
Bring us into contrite repentance.
May we know the "we" of human-kindness,
That they are us and we are they,
And we are all the same kind,
Loved by you,
Blessed by you dwelling with us and within us as Spirit,
And as created in your image,
Redeemed by you as Christ.
Tear down the walls of our divided thinking,
Where we hold ourselves as loved and held
in your grace,
But then create division in our minds by cutting off others from being included in that joy.

Re-member us in our brokenness.
Convict us of our wrong belief.
Join us in communion,
That we might be one in your love,
Each and every person,
We who are us and them.
Upset our religion when it fails to bring unity in our diversity.
Help us to do think rightly,
Do justly,
Love with mercy and kindness,
And walk humbly with you, God.
Lead us into better human being we pray.
Amen.

The Assembly web page about being a multicultural Church <https://uniting.church/a-multicultural-church/> says the following:

The Uniting Church rejoices in diversity of races, cultures and languages as God's gracious gift to the human family.

On any Sunday, around 200 congregations within the Uniting Church gather to worship using a language or languages other than English. Around 45 languages, 15 of which are languages of our First Peoples, are used each week across our congregations. There is a growing number of ministers and lay leaders across the Uniting Church who have come from overseas or born here in Australia from migrant parents. Many of our Church properties are shared with congregations from across the diversity of ethnicities we find within Australia.

We continue on our journey to fully realise what it means to be a multicultural church, living faith and life cross-culturally.

We do this by:

- building relationships that are based on mutual respect, collaboration and recognition of the gifts and calling of peoples of diverse cultural and language backgrounds
- assisting the Church to fully utilise the gifts and calling of members from culturally diverse backgrounds
- continuing to develop respectful and reconciling relationships with First peoples across the life of the church
- developing culturally sensitive and appropriate policies that respond to the needs of UCA members
- fostering models of cross-cultural ministry and mission, outreach and evangelism that reflect the hospitality of God

We are blessed by our diversity. May we continue how to honour and celebrate our differences as we seek to be the Body of Christ together. The welcome God calls us to as Christ, gives us much to think about.

*God bless
Jon*

Christian Meditation Monday night @ 7.30pm and Tuesday morning @ 9am

During May at all Christian Meditation sessions at St. Matthew's there will be a 15 minute session of teachings preceding the time of Meditation named;

Christian Life in the Light of Christian Meditation 1: Discipleship By Laurence Freeman OSB

Fr Laurence defines discipleship as being on the way to becoming one with Christ, and presents meditation as a way to discipleship. In the practice of Christian meditation we take our attention off ourselves and turn wholeheartedly to Christ dwelling in our hearts—we leave self behind. This shift from habitual self-fixation allows us to experience Jesus' gaze turned towards us. In the mutual recognition, a personal relationship develops that transforms us gradually to be more Christ-like.

From the book Silence & Stillness in Every Season Daily readings with John Main

The fullness of the life that Christ offers each of us is eternal life — life without limit. The mystery is that fullness of life is offered to us now. All of us have to learn as we live our lives that there must be a constant development. The invitation we have is to grow, to develop, to mature. One of the elements of that maturity is our growing capacity to enter the present moment more and more fully,, more and more perfectly, more and more generously. That is why it is so important that we continue to meditate every day, faithfully, every morning and every evening.

Each time we meditate and each time we say our mantra we are entering into that process of development, deepening our capacity to be wholly in the now. The invitation that we have is to build our lives on the eternal rock that is Christ. It is so easy for us for our lives to pass before our eyes in some sort of haphazard kaleidoscope. It is so easy for us to live our lives being tossed around by waves or mere fortune, never knowing where we will be landing up next or how long we will be there.

The challenge for all of us is to find the rock who is Christ, to find him in our hearts and then to respond to our lives, rooted in the knowledge that is love.

Door to Silence
