

Wholeness

We are in the season of Lent. The Church, that is us who are Nothing we do as the Church Lent centres us in the ministry the Body of Christ together and has any meaning if it is not of God, in the person of Jesus, individually, are called to live intentionally serving God's on the way of the Cross. This is out God's mission. We are mission. If any of our activities part of the Mission of God called to join in God's mission lose their missional focus then through Jesus proclaiming and by joining in the work of God. they have become redundant. living out the Kingdom. Lent Mission is at the heart of our Mission needs to be prepares us for remembering purpose.

Easter and Easter reminds us of the work of God to make the Kingdom of God our priority. Easter is the culmination of God's mission to show us the depth of God's love. "For God so loved the world that he sent [i.e. became] his son, so that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life." [John 3: 16]. Yet, that love, and believing in it, is only truly expressed in us giving of ourselves and Christ, who is God as a human, gave of himself. "This is how we know what love is: Jesus Christ laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters." [1 John3: 16] intentionally part of all we are and do.

What is God's mission, again? It is not just intentionally helping people to know God who is the evangelism in the sense of telling people about God or encouraging them to believe in God. The Good News aka the evangel [because the word evangel comes from the Greek word εὐαγγέλιον (euangelion) meaning "good news" or "good message," derived from eu ("good") and angelia ("message" or "news")] is as Jesus proclaimed, "The Kingdom of God is at hand." [Matthew 3:2; Matthew 4:17; Mark 1:15] The good news is that God is at work for good in all things, because that is what the Kingdom of God is about, God redeeming all things and all people. This is why we need to be changed – engage in metanoia and repentance.

Our core mission is to join God in God's work, to be God's people as we use our gifts and talents to lay down our lives in love for others as God, as Christ, laid down his life for us. God is love and when we live love to others we live in God and God lives in us. This is what we are called to be and do, and as part of this life and witness, we are called to be a channel through which others come into right relationship with God and are invited to join God in God's mission.

Thus, our whole life as the Church is about God's mission. We seek to be disciples through being in ministry through using the gifts from God and the gifts of opportunity to use them, to serve others in love and then in the process disciple them that they might know God and become disciples who join in God's mission.

We do this through our worship, witness and service, which are not three separate aspects of faith and discipleship but are actually three parts of an integrated whole. Worship is not just about our Church services, but serving as the Church, and our serving is not just doing good in God's name but Having prepared in our liturgical year in Advent for the remembering that God is Christ, the son of God who is God and is the Word of God made flesh – that is celebrating Christmas – we then have sought to grow in hope, peace joy and love in After Epiphany. We now enter Lent, to do some discipline in remembering the mission of God, which culminates in celebration of Easter. WE then will go on to remember our call as the Church at Pentecost and our empowerment by knowing that God is always present and at work in us and with us as the Holy Spirit. The reset of the year is then actively trying to join in God's mission and grow the Kingdom of God. The liturgical cycle each year is about centring us in missional mindfulness that we might be truly alive and effective as the Church. The mission of God is wholly what we should be thinking about all the time.

God bless
Jon

Silence and stillness in every season

Daily readings with John Main

One of the things that we must clearly understand is that meditation , this pursuit of wisdom and love, must take place in an entirely ordinary, natural way. Meditation must be built into the ordinary fabric of everyday life. We must learn to see the whole of life shot through with the divine. We must also understand that it is our destiny to enter this divine harmony, to be in harmony with God. It is not a question of trying to fit a bit of spirituality into our lives. The spiritual quest, the permanent spiritual invitation is getting our lives, ourselves, into permanent focus with ultimate truth, ultimate goodness. Not in any self-important or exploitative way but in a very simple, childlike way. It is by being still, by paying attention and by becoming mindful of the one who loves us.

To be fit for the great tasks in life we must learn to be faithful in humble tasks. Meditation is a very simple and very humble pilgrimage that prepares us for this focusing of our lives on the divine centre. Our lives are nourished by the spiritual sap, the energy rising from the root of all being. The invitation that each of us has received is to find out who we are, to discover the destiny that we have, to go beyond the limitations of our separate selves and to be united with the One who is all in all. In that going beyond ourselves, we find ourselves, And we find our unlimited capacity for development, for liberty, for love.

The Heart of Creation

Parramatta Mission

In April, we will be collecting beanies and scarves to be distributed to disadvantaged people at Parramatta Mission. A collection tub will be available at the top of the stairs.

Thanks everyone who knitted and crocheted items last year. Our donations were greatly appreciated.

Mission to the Philippines

Over the last few months The Philippines have experienced some extreme weather events. Although our friends have endured some flooding and property destruction, thank God there has been no loss of life or serious injury.

The backpacks continue to allow the children the dignity of such a possession and the recipients have been showing an increase in their marks at school, merely by having the necessary tools with which learn at their disposal.

The local government hospital paediatric ward in loilo continues to care for the children of the impoverished local people, most of whom are illiterate.

Hygiene continues to be a problem with dental care top of the list. A dentist does visit schools once a year but toothbrushes and paste are too expensive for them, added to the fact that there is no fluoride in the water.

Heart disease and sepsis in children and new born have increased, hence the call out for hygiene supplies.

The school box delivery is complete for 2025 and packing is underway for the end of this year.

Massive thanks to St Matt's for all the help, the donations, the encouragement and prayer.

Special mention to the SHINE participants who work hard doing their part packing boxes and living up to their motto... Be Kind.

As our Filipino friends tell me all the time at the end of each communication...

To God be the Glory.

Op-shop News

March 2026

St. Matthew's Uniting Op-shop has begun the year with great energy. Our community has been incredibly generous with donations, so much so that we are now looking for additional storage space. We are truly grateful for every donation. If we are unable to sell an item, we are usually able to pass it on to support another worthwhile cause.

We recently held a very successful "$10 per bag" clothing sale, where customers filled a paper shopping bag with as much as they could for $10. Our next event will be a "Rummage Sale", where customers can search through boxes of goods and fill a bag for just $5. We look forward to seeing how this is received.

Our monthly Garage Sales continue to be very popular community events. In February, nearly 80 people were lined up at the door by 9:00am, and the air conditioner in the lower hall was working hard. Many customers now look forward to the first Saturday of each month. However, these events require a great deal of organisation. We would love to find an energetic, able-bodied person to coordinate the Garage Sales. Experience in sales or marketing would be helpful, along with a willingness to work with the Op-shop team.

The Garage Sale team meet every Monday morning from 8:30am to 12:00pm to sort and price donations, and during the week of the sale we spend an additional eight hours preparing. With the right leadership, this time could be reduced. For more information, please speak with Pamela in the Op-shop or call M: 0404 023 588.

We are also fortunate to have a dedicated Auction Team. Jeff and Colin take higher-value donated items to auction and have achieved excellent results. Kylie has recently joined the team and is successfully selling selected items online through Marketplace.

Our number of volunteers continues to grow, which is a blessing given the increase in donations. We now have 26 regular volunteers across our three trading days. Each volunteer is greatly valued, and we thank God for such a generous and committed team. If you are thinking about volunteering, please do not hesitate – there is always room for another helping hand.

With love,
Pamela
